THE CITY OF SEATTLE

The following provides general information about the City.

Municipal Government

Incorporated in 1869, the City of Seattle, Washington, is the largest city in the Pacific Northwest and is the county seat of King County (the “County”). The City’s elected officials are a mayor, nine City Council members and a city attorney. These officials are elected at large to four-year terms. The City provides four utility services funded by rates and charges: electricity, water, drainage and wastewater, and solid waste.

Financial Management

City financial management functions are provided by the Department of Finance. Dwight D. Dively is the Director of Finance. Mr. Dively is a graduate of Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology, holds a master’s degree from Princeton University in public affairs and is a Ph.C. in civil engineering at the University of Washington.

Accounting. The accounting and reporting policies of the City conform to generally accepted accounting principles for municipal governments and are regulated by the State Auditor’s Office, Division of Municipal Corporations, which maintains a resident staff at the City to perform a continual current audit as well as the annual post-fiscal year audit of City financial operations. The Department of Finance maintains general supervision over financial transactions of all City funds. In addition, the City’s utilities are audited annually by an external auditor.

Auditing. The State Auditor is required to examine the affairs of all local governments at least once every three years; the City is audited annually. The examination must include, among other things, the financial condition and resources of the City, compliance with the laws and Constitution of the State, and the methods and accuracy of the accounts and reports of the City. Reports of the Auditor’s examinations are required to be filed in the office of the State Auditor and in the Department of Finance. The City’s Comprehensive Annual Financial Report may be obtained from the Department of Finance by calling (206) 684-8300.

Municipal Budget. City operations are guided by a budget prepared under the direction of the Mayor by the City Budget Office within the Department of Finance pursuant to State statute (Chapter 35.32A RCW). The proposed budget is submitted to the City Council by the Mayor each year not later than 90 days prior to the beginning of the next fiscal year. Currently the fiscal year of the City is from January 1 through December 31. The City Council considers the proposed budget, holds public hearings on its contents and may alter and revise the budget at its discretion, subject to the State requirement that budgeted revenues must at least equal expenditures. The City Council is required to adopt the budget at least 30 days before the beginning of the next fiscal year.

Investments. The information in this section does not pertain to pension funds, which are administered by the Seattle City Employees’ Retirement System, and some debt issuance proceeds that are administered by trustee service providers.

All cash-related transactions for the City, including its utilities, are administered by the Treasury Division of the Department of Finance. City cash is deposited into a single bank account and cash expenditures are paid from a consolidated disbursement account. Investments of temporarily idle cash may be made, according to existing City Council-approved policies, by the Treasury Division in the following securities:

- (i) U.S. Treasury and agency issues;
- (ii) bankers’ acceptances sold on the secondary market;

- (iii) repurchase and reverse repurchase agreements, when structured with securities eligible for purchase and when executed under an approved Master Repurchase Agreement with selected primary dealers; and
- (iv) commercial paper purchased in the secondary market which has received the highest ratings of at least two nationally recognized rating agencies.

State statutes, City ordinances and Department of Finance policies require the City to minimize market risks by safekeeping all purchased securities according to governmental standards for public institutions and by maintaining safety and liquidity above consideration for returns. Current City investment policies require periodic reporting about the City's investment portfolio to the Mayor and the City Council. The City's investment operations are reviewed by the City Auditor and by the State Examiner.

As of May 31, 2003, the combined investment portfolios of the City totaled $847.8 million at book value. The City's cash pool is constituted solely of City funds. The City does not invest any of its funds in other pools, with the exception of tax collection receipts initially held by the County and funds of the Seattle City Employees' Retirement System and the Deferred Compensation Plan. The year-to-date yield on the City's consolidated pool of investments as of May 31, 2003, was 3.4 percent. As of May 31, 2003, the average maturity date of the portfolio was January 7, 2005. Approximately 37.1 percent, or $314.9 million, was invested in securities with maturities of three months or less. The City held no securities with maturities longer than 15 years. Investments were allocated as follows:

U.S. Treasury Securities	53.7%
Commercial Paper	23.7
Municipal Investment Account	8.8
Federal Farm Credit Bank	7.2
Repurchase Agreements	3.5
Federal Discount Notes	2.5
Certificates of Deposit	0.4

Interfund Loans. City ordinances authorize the Director of Finance to approve interfund loans for a duration of up to 90 days and to establish a rate of interest on such loans. Extension or renewal of interfund loans requires City Council approval by ordinance. The Director of Finance also is authorized by City ordinance to make loans to individual funds participating in a common investment portfolio by carrying funds in a negative cash position for a period of up to 90 days, or for a longer period upon approval by ordinance, to the extent that such loans can be supported prudently by the common investment portfolio and the borrowing fund is reasonably expected to be able to repay the loan. Loans of this type bear interest at the common investment portfolio's rate of return.

Risk Management

The City maintains $25 million liability insurance, with a $5 million self-insured retention per occurrence. The City also maintains $500 million policy limits of property insurance, with a $500,000 deductible per occurrence and other underlying limits and deductibles. However, damage to City utility property is not insured, except for certain property used for administrative purposes. Workers compensation is self-insured. Miscellaneous other policies are purchased to cover other exposures such as fiduciary and crime liability.

Pension System

Nearly all permanent non-uniformed City employees participate in the Seattle City Employees' Retirement System (the "Plan"), a single employer public employee retirement system. The payroll for City employees covered by the Plan for the year ended December 31, 2001, was $405.0 million; total City payroll was $619.5 million. Nearly all City employees are required to contribute 8.03 percent of their annual base salary to the Plan, and the City contributes an additional 8.03 percent. As of January 1, 2001, system assets exceeded the accrued actuarial liability. The actuarial present value of future benefits was $1.988 billion, the actuarial present value of future normal costs for present members was $497.8 million and the actuarial value of assets available for benefits was $1.493 billion. Combined employee and employer contributions to the Plan totaled approximately $69.3 million for the year ending December 31, 2001. Due to declining investment returns, the system's unfunded liability as of January 1, 2003, has increased significantly.

Labor Relations

The City has 34 separate departments and offices with approximately 13,000 regular and temporary employees. Thirty different unions and 45 bargaining units represent approximately 75 percent of the City's regular employees. The City's contract with the Seattle Police Officers Guild expired on December 31, 2002, and negotiations for a successor contract are underway. The parties are using an "interest-based" approach rather than traditional positional bargaining. The contract with the Seattle Police Management Association (representing lieutenants and captains in the Police Department) expired at the end of 2001, and negotiations for a successor contract are continuing. The City is currently in the middle of three-year contracts with the coalition of City unions representing most non-uniformed City employees, and with IBEW Local 77, which represents electrical workers in the City Light and Transportation departments. The City also has agreements with Firefighters Local 27 and Fire Chiefs Local 2898 that generally extend through 2004.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM

Under the State Constitution, Washington voters may initiate legislation and require the Legislature to refer legislation to the voters through the powers of initiative and referendum, respectively. Any such law approved by a majority of the voters may not be amended or repealed by the Legislature within a period of two years following enactment, except by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house of the Legislature. After two years, the law is subject to amendment or repeal by the Legislature in the same manner as other laws. The Washington State Constitution may not be amended by initiative.

The three most recent State-wide tax-related initiatives approved by State voters did not purport to affect utility rates or charges, though earlier voter-passed initiatives, which were invalidated by the State courts, might have affected utility rates or charges. Other tax and fee initiative measures have been and may be filed, but it cannot be predicted whether any such initiatives might gain sufficient signatures to qualify for submission to the Legislature and/or the voters or, if submitted, whether they ultimately would become law.

Under the City Charter, Seattle voters also may initiate local legislation and City Charter amendments and through referendum may prevent legislation passed by the City Council from becoming law.

LEGAL AND TAX INFORMATION

Bond Litigation

There is no litigation pending with process properly served on the City questioning the validity of the Bonds or the power and authority of the City to issue the Bonds.

Approval of Counsel

Legal matters incident to the authorization, issuance and sale of the Bonds by the City are subject to the approving legal opinion of Foster Pepper & Shefelman PLLC, Bond Counsel. A form of the opinion of such firm with respect to the Bonds is attached hereto as Appendix B. Bond Counsel will be compensated only upon the issuance and sale of the Bonds.

Tax Exemption

Exclusion from Gross Income. In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under existing federal law and assuming compliance with applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), that must be satisfied subsequent to the issue date of the Bonds, interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes and is not an item of tax preference for purposes of the alternative minimum tax applicable to individuals.
